Wainwright Industries has been providing exceptional service and delivery to its customers for more than half a century. Our dedication to quality and consistently supplying cost-effective, customized customer solutions has not only earned the Company the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award but, most importantly, has resulted in decades of repeat business with satisfied customers.

We provide metal stamping, machining and logistics services to our worldwide customers from three locations in the heart of America. Wainwright Industries has 400,000 square feet among three facilities, near St. Louis, Missouri, giving us the space and geographic advantage that lead to cost benefits for our customers. The region's diverse commercial transportation options, including multiple interstates, airports, waterways and rail lines, position us to competitively meet customers' needs.

Wainwright Industries takes great pride in having the latest, specialized machinery and an incomparable team of experienced designers, engineers, skilled tradesmen and quality-oriented associates whose focus is on exceeding our customers' expectations.

“Quality,” says Don Wainwright, Chairman, “is perseverance and character. At Wainwright, we’ve never given up.”
